

Trump at war : Q & A

Wow, did some questions come up regarding the article < Patriot : 04/13/2026 - Why is Trump at war with the world...including the United States? >.

I had to take some liberties and edit out some bad language, reduce the size of couple questions, spell check some as well, and paraphrase a couple. Seems I struck some nerves in that article; some folks got a little heated. Oh well, I am being honest and sharing my opinion. Anyone and everyone is free to disagree with me, have their own opinion, and even insult me...it's a free country. I just hope I helped even a couple folks think about what is happening...and encouraged folks to better prepare for what is happening and what is coming.

So here we go...

- You sound like you think Secretary Hegseth is almost demonic. Is that what you actually think?

That is strong language. Since you were so specific I have to answer...legitimately...no. Do I think he is acting in the realm of a Disciple of Christ? No. Do I think he is acting according to Christ teachings? No. Do I think he is acting in direct opposition of Christ's teachings? Yes. Do I think he is acting in the best interests of the US? Absolutely not!

Here's an interesting question that I thought of when responding to your question...Do I think he is acting in good faith and should be holding religious meetings in the Pentagon? Absolutely no and absolutely not. I don't think Pentagon Pistol Pete is acting in good faith as a Christian. I also don't think he should be holding religious meetings in the Pentagon at all. God is not a God of war as of the moment Christ came to earth and fulfilled the Atonement. The Old Testament (Israel's "Bible") was replaced with Jesus Christ and Christ's teachings took/takes precedence. The Pentagon is about as opposite of Christian principles as you can possibly get. Also...hypocritically speaking...would we be fine with holding Islamic calls to prayer in the Pentagon? Of course not.

- Do you really think US hit that girl's school intentionally?

The evidence points to that. It wasn't a single US missile that hit the school. Reports are 2 or 3 missiles hit the elementary school full of young girls. Yes, it was in the general vicinity of an air base. But the Tomahawk missiles are seriously accurate. And you likely wouldn't get a single guidance error, let alone two or three. The Pentagon folks brag about Tomahawk missiles are so accurate they can fly through an open window. Well, believe them.

Trump at war : Q & A

“Why” US forces targeted hit that school killing those young girls is another story. Did the targeting package come from US military sources, CIA sources, or Israel? If it was Israel...that makes perfect sense...they are conducting genocide in the middle-east and would want to hurt Iran’s pilots as much as possible...kill their kids. If it was the CIA...that would not surprise me at all either. The CIA is brutal and about as demonic as you will find any organization in the history of the world. Maybe they just wanted to send a demented message to the pilots...maybe they just wanted to kill kids. I don’t know. If the target package came from US military sources that concerns me a lot. That strike would have to be approved at the highest levels and they would know it is both morally wrong and a war crime.

One additional thing that concerns me the most...Have you heard a single ranking person from the Trump Administration or the Hegseth War Department express regret that the US killed all those young girls...the 8-year old girls...over 100 of them? Actually, Trump, in all his bluster and dementia tried to lay the blame on Iran. What kind of man does something like that? I would say it out-loud, but you already know what I am thinking.

- What proof do you have that President Donald wants war?

Honestly, I had to go back and delete my original reply to your question. Now I all I will say is this...simply go back and read the long list of events, incidents, and actions that I laid out...they are all facts. Please draw your own conclusion(s)...don’t trust mine...do your own research...reach your own conclusion(s).

< read the original article here >

- Don’t you think Israel is special, God’s chosen people?

I think the Biblical House of Israel is special and God’s chosen people, the scriptures say so. The modern day country of Israel is NOT those people. Israel today is a secular country. In 1947 the UN came up with a recommendation that could create Israel. In 1948 David Ben-Gurion declared the establishment of that Israel. David Ben-Gurion was a secular Jew, not a religious Jew. Meaning he believed in the historical and ethnic aspect of a Jewish state but not a country of religious Jews as spoken of in the scriptures. So today’s Israel is NOT a religious entity, it is NOT the Israel of the Old Testament, it is NOT God’s chosen people.

Trump at war : Q & A

- Why don't you talk more about Israel and their part in all of this?

Do I really need to or are you laying down a mine for me to step on? Israel started a massive war of revenge and expansion back in 2023 after Hamas attacked Israeli towns and villages. Since then it has turned that operation into a genocide...an ethnic cleansing of Gaza and now parts of Lebanon. Israel is killing tens of thousands of people...men, women, children, and infants...intentionally killing them. They are striving for a "greater Israel". If you don't know what that is go do some research.

Israel was once a country that I admired for what they were able to establish against all odds. But within the last decade or two Israel has turned into the monster it feared from the Nazis. Israel a killing machine...murdering people...including Christians...by the tens of thousands and they aren't even close to done. They are literally leveling entire areas of the middle-east, reducing them to nothing more than piles of rubble. They are embarked in their own holocaust against Muslims and Christians.

And yes, I think good ole BiBi and his pal Donnie worked together to start the Iran War. Israel wants Iran wiped off the face of the earth and Donnie wants their oil. Evil wins.

Ironically, ever hear of the Cyrus the Great and the Achaemenid Empire? Yup, Persians...the people of modern day Iran. Back about 540 BC the Persians conquered the empire holding Jews in slavery. Cyrus released the Jews from slavery, assisted in getting them back to the land of Israel, helped them rebuild their temple, and even returned some valuable and sacred religious relics to the Jews. Yup, Cyrus saved the Jews! And now Israel is trying to destroy the descendants of the people that saved them...the people of Iran. Odd, don't you think?

- What does "slow walking" mean?

"Slow walking" is delaying carrying out an order...or at least slowing down the carrying out of an order. It happens all the time in government, including the military. Someone gives you an order you don't like or don't agree with so you move it down your priority list. You find excuses not to follow through on fulfilling the order and/or you take you own good sweet time...you go to lunch...a long, long lunch...then take a break...then another break...then go home for the day.

Trump at war : Q & A

- Don't you want a strong military?

Here's my answer...you probably won't like it.

I want a military that is 100% compliant with the US Constitution and the principles that our Founding Fathers believed in. That is a “defensive” military based on state militias. Not the “offensive” standing professional monstrosity we have now that is wasting trillions of dollars. The Founders would be abhorred at our current military...it is everything they objected to and feared...and fought against. We should not have a single base, not even a single soldier stationed in foreign lands. Our military, from the very beginning, was meant to defend the USA...defend our homes, our shores, our citizens, our homes, our freedoms, our liberties, our rights, our country...not build 750 bases in 80+ countries!!!

The one exception, the US Constitution allows for the US Navy to protect shipping lanes for US trade.

- You really don't like MAGA. Do you think they are evil?

Two parts to that...one is a land mine. No, I don't like the organization and the true purpose of it. The actual political purpose of MAGA is based on Trump's agenda, his hidden agenda. The public face of MAGA sounds great...solid...pro-America. But it is, in all reality, Trump's personal political machine to accomplish his own personal goals. And those goals aren't the ones you hear about. The people in MAGA are not good or evil...they are just people. Many of whom are intelligent and well-intentioned...love America...and are practicing Disciples of Christ.

MAGA has been losing political strength and members lately...an exponential loss of folks. Mostly due to three things; 1) people becoming disillusioned with Trump personally and his diminishing mental state, 2) Trump's war against Iran and other military adventurism, 3) his undeniable tanking of the US economy. Go back to “It's the economy stupid!” Trump can't side-step the actual numbers showing clearly the economy is suffering, getting much worse, under his presidency. Remember, Trump himself has said “I am MAGA!” Believe that egomaniac.

Trump at war : Q & A

MAGA will go away just like the Tea Party did. The difference is...the Tea Party was actually an honorable grassroots movement working to correct/fix the federal government. MAGA is a main supporter of the federal government and Trump's own personal political machine.

So no, MAGA is not evil. They may be a lot of things, but they, the people or the organization, are not evil.

This is Trump in his Truth Social post just days ago (during the Easter season) he is portraying himself as Jesus Christ. Many call it blasphemous (which I agree with), a bunch of Christians left MAGA over it. Yet, some MAGA people actually found a way to dismiss it or overlook it. That...I don't understand at all. Ironically, there are a lot of mental health professionals that have forwarded the opinion that Trump has a "God Complex"...long before Trump posted that picture. Imagine that!

- Did you really want to insult everyone who believes in MAGA?

No. I was/am trying to point out that the MAGA folks are not doing the right thing trying to demonize anyone who questions Trump. There is always legitimate two sides to every issue.

Trump at war : Q & A

But MAGA folks use TDS as a demeaning, insulting, ugly way to dismiss people who even question Trump or his policies or his actions or his demented words. Hence, they suffer from TWS (Trump Worship Syndrome).

- Do you think civil war is coming and how soon?

Civil war is already here. Maybe call it American Revolution II...but I wouldn't call it that. We already have huge divisions in the country...political, religious, ethical, and so on. We are terminally split as a country and fighting, physical violence, has already started. Simply look back to the federal forces attacking and killing US citizens and others protesting and demonstrating. There was violence on both sides to be sure...but it was US government forces doing the killing. And there were a boat load of people cheering on those Feds who killed people! Unbelievable.

When does it get worse and out in the open on a continual basis? I don't know. It appears to me we are sitting on a powder keg waiting for someone stupid to put a spark to it...and that could come at any time. We have seen millions of people protesting “No Kings!” all across the country in the dead of winter. What happens when the weather warms up a bit more? And remember, the vast majority of people object to Trump's war with Iran both in principle and as a huge hit economically to middle and lower-income Americans. When does that “objection” move to the streets?

Civil War in a traditional sense is inevitable here in the US. Pray against it. It will be unlike anything Americans have ever seen...brutal, horrible, and violent beyond belief...and we won't recover from it. Civil War is something we should not want...period. Pray that it doesn't happen.

Trump at war : Q & A

- Do you think the US is divided beyond fixing?

Yes. There is no going back to a United States of America. It will get worse and worse becoming the Tribal States of America. There cannot be, and will not be, any reunification of the people of the United States. It simply can't happen...we've divided ourselves too far. Well actually, untrue. The politicians, the political parties, government operatives, government bureaucrats, and corporations have succeeded in dividing us into tribes...isolated us beyond redemption. The US is following the exact same pattern as every other empire that has ever existed in the world.

- Can the US win a World War 3?

No. But it is important to understand what WW3 looks like...in my opinion. WW1 & WW2 were basically the same kind of kinetic war where dumb ass generals threw men into death pits. Those generals simply marched the military into the jaws of death for years...and justified it somehow. Starting in Vietnam and going through the Iraq and Afghanistan Wars it was pretty much the same but with more precision weaponry. Odd, we won WW1 & WW2...and didn't win a war since then...the current Iran War included.

Trump at war : Q & A

WW3 will not be a “terminator style” war; we're still a few years away from that. WW3 will be a war of computers, drones, missiles, and “cells”. It will true asymmetrical warfare. A small determined country with a good group of hackers could bring down the US power grid, most of the city's sewer and water systems, freeze our banking system, and paralyze our air traffic control system. Sure our military could strike back...but the US proper would already be effectively destroyed. And any country with a nuke, facing losing a war, could drag the whole world into an ash pit. And that is exactly what we are looking at right now...a slow, uncontrolled slide into a world war. And it is being done intentionally...and we can't win, we won't win...and too many people are blind to that.

And then there is the whole social media aspect of the new generation of warfare. Odd, our enemies, foreign and domestic, use to pit us against each other...and do so rather easily. Both major US political parties already are at war with the US using this tactic. Our foreign enemies/competitors use it against us as well. Countries such as Russia, China, North Korea, Iran, Israel, Ukraine, and a long list of others. They know well that if we are fighting each other we won't fight them...or at least not see what they are getting away with. Or, true...they also pit us against each other to motivate one side or another to give them what they want. Think about it...a few hundred thousand, maybe a million+, AI generated bots spread around all the social media platforms cost virtually nothing. And with millions of messages, false information, posting each day they can accomplish what tons of bombs and millions of bullets can't.

The worst part...our own political leaders use this same social media warfare strategy against us more than any foreign country. And we, the American public, eat it up...and join in. We ignore what they are doing...or demonize the few folks that are pointing out what they are really doing. We are a country divided...and maybe that has been the goal all along...divide and conquer. And those power players behind it have won...while so many live in a blissful ignorant vacuum.

Trump at war : Q & A

- You make it sound that it is all Trump's fault.

I apologize for that. Let me be clear...it is not all Trump's fault. That being said...Trump should take responsibility for his share of it since he has two terms as President. This current term is a complete and total disaster of nothing less than chaos, confusion, contention, conflict, war, failing economy, and a growing division of the US population. In every aspect this Trump term is accelerating the fall of the US. He is on the verge of the complete and utter destruction of the US. He could well be the last President of our country.
